KARSTEN KAUB

Karsten Kaub was a full-time student on the BA(Hons) Video (Professional Media) degree, graduating with a Second Class Honours (First Division) award in July 1999.

Karsten was an exemplary student and only just missed getting a First Class Honours award, which I personally feel would have been a more accurate reflection of the quality of his later work.

During his time at college Karsten proved to be conscientious, honest, hardworking and totally reliable, his work was well researched and he could always be relied upon to meet deadlines. He worked well under pressure, never losing his positive outlook no matter how difficult the situation.

Such was the standard of his work and his general demeanour that Karsten was employed during his last semester to teach video production to first year students on the Media Communications degree. Module questionnaires point to just how popular and successful he was in this role.

Well liked by staff and students alike Karsten worked with maturity and professionalism, combining total commitment to the job in hand with a cheerful and positive outlook and I have no hesitation in recommending him.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Yours sincerely
