The comparison in quality of my work before and after Kalle's intuition is blindingly obvious. Because of Kalle, I learnt more about filmmaking, in one semester than ever before. His lessons were invaluable, always staying focused, entertaining and inspirational.

Kalle Kaub,

I feel I can speak for everyone when I say that during Kalle's time teaching on this course last year he inspired us all. His passion for film making was plain to see during his lectures and this was a key factor as to why his lectures were not only enjoyable, but very knowledgeable as well. We were taught the technical side to camera and sound recording at a high level. Kalle can also take a lot of credit for why we're are such a close year group as he brought us altogether, arranging for us to watch films together on Tuesday evenings helped us all hugely to bond.

Overall Kalle was an excellent lecturer for us, especially as first years when we need to be gripped straight away on the course. You can tell he truly cared for each student, and the course, and wanted us to produce work of the highest quality, thus making us more driven to create high quality films.

To whom it may concern

As a student I would like to express my high opinion of Mr Kalle Kaub as a teacher.

His knowledge, professionalism and excellent teaching approach helped immensely the evolution and improvement of my work as a Film Production student.

Under the guidance of Mr Kaub I have reached a new level of confidence about my craft and art. With his vast practical experience and his great understanding of cinema as an art form, Mr Kaub has been the perfect tutor to help me understand better many of the different aspects of filmmaking.

There are not many things that will help my development as a filmmaker better than the chance to have him again as a tutor.

Sincerely,

George Popov

Before having the pleasure of sitting through a guest lecture from Kalle, I hadn't had any moments of inspiration in an academic environment.

The talk was impressive enough, though it was the sincerity in which everything was told that captivated myself and a lecture theater of people. I heard things from a different prospect and it helped me make some big decisions towards my future. It was a fantastic moment to finally feel like I hadn't made a mistake coming to university. It only took one lecture from Kalle to kick me up the arse and change things for the better, so for that time, I'm very grateful.

It's been a brilliant experience having Kalle as a lecturer. It was apparent throughout the whole of his time with us, how much he cared about the class and I don't think there are many lecturers that will go out of their way outside of lecturing to help students familiarise themselves with the university equipment. This really did benefit me and helped me learn so much about fundamental elements of filmmaking. I think Kalle is a truly inspiring individual and the course has so much to gain from having him there to work with its current students. He's professional and hardworking, which is exactly what the course needs to help motivate, encourage and prepare students for future filmmaking!
